

BREVARD COLLEGE

BREVARD, NORTH CAROLINA

MUSIC AUDITION INFORMATION

All students wishing to major in music or earn an ensemble scholarship must audition for the Music faculty prior to entering Brevard College. Once you have completed the audition application, you will receive a confirmation email with answers to any questions you may have. At the audition, you will perform your prepared repertoire and have a conversation with our faculty about your goals and our program offerings. You will receive your audition time and location during the week before your audition.

REPERTOIRE GUIDELINES

- Singers: Prepare two contrasting selections that show your voice at its best. Selections can include art songs, arias, folk songs, or pop/jazz tunes. An accompanist will be provided at the audition. If you prefer, you may use an accompaniment track.
- Instrumentalists: Prepare two contrasting solos (single movement or etude), with or without accompaniment. Please also be prepared to play scales.

COVID AUDITION PROTOCOL

- Masks and bell covers will be required during the audition. Supplies will be provided for those who need them.
- All auditionees will answer symptom screening questions and have their temperature checked prior to the audition.
- Auditions will be carefully timed to allow for aerosols in the spaces to clear every 30 minutes.

AUDITION RESULTS

A letter with your audition results will be mailed within one week of your audition. Scholarship notifications will be mailed shortly thereafter.

AWARDS

Scholarship awards for majors are larger than those for non-majors, and both come with specific ensemble requirements. Award amounts are determined by the strength of your audition, departmental need, and other factors. Music Major Scholarships will replace Half-Tuition Scholarships and/or previous academic merit awards. Some other awards, like Scholarship Day Awards, will combine with your Music Major scholarship. Talk with Kevin George for details about your package.

HONORS WIND AND BRASS AWARDS

The Music faculty is seeking outstanding brass and woodwind players to serve as leaders in our ensembles and ambassadors for the College. Top awards will be offered in these areas for Fall 2021.
