

Brevard College
Fall 2023
Assistant Professor and Program Coordinator of Physics

Brevard College seeks an enthusiastic teacher to fill a tenure-track, nine-month faculty position as an Assistant Professor of Physics, who will also serve as Coordinator for the thriving Applied Physics Program, beginning in the fall of 2023. Candidates considered for this position will possess a terminal degree in a relevant field (e.g., a Ph.D. in Physics).

Successful candidates must be engaging teachers of Physics at all levels of the undergraduate curriculum, ranging from general education courses to upper-level courses for the Applied Physics Program. Teaching responsibilities include, but are not limited to, general Physics for science majors, Modern Physics, and upper-level courses in the field of the candidate's expertise. The successful candidate will demonstrate a record of, or potential for, excellence in teaching and have experiential teaching skills. The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours/semester, and all faculty members actively contribute to program assessment, serve on committees, advise students, and participate in professional development and service to the College. Because the coordinator also recruits students to the program, we seek a dynamic and innovative leader.

Brevard College, founded in 1853, is a residential liberal arts college. Situated in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Brevard College is located 33 miles southwest of Asheville, North Carolina. Brevard College is committed to an experiential liberal arts education that encourages personal growth and inspires artistic, intellectual, and social action. Our faculty purposefully engage with learners in direct experience and focused reflections in order to increase knowledge, develop skills, and clarify values.

The starting date for this position is August 2023. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living environment, Brevard College conducts background investigations on all final candidates being considered for employment.

Applicants should email (1) a letter of application describing the applicant's qualifications relevant to teaching at Brevard College; (2) a statement of teaching philosophy; (3) a curriculum vitae documenting relevant experience, as well as courses the applicant has taught and is prepared to teach; (4) a sample syllabus from a recent course; and (5) names and contact information for three professional references, at least one of whom must be the applicant's current or most recent supervisor. Materials and inquiries should be submitted to:
