

Brevard College
Fall 2023
Assistant Professor of Chemistry

Brevard College seeks an enthusiastic teacher to fill a tenure-track, nine-month faculty position as an Assistant Professor of Chemistry, beginning in the fall of 2023. Candidates considered for this position will possess a terminal degree in a relevant field, in hand by starting date (e.g., a Ph.D. in Chemistry).

Brevard College will introduce a new Chemistry Program with a focus in Green/Sustainable Chemistry in Fall 2023 and is seeking a candidate to join the current Chemistry faculty to work collaboratively and innovatively to develop this program. Current chemistry faculty will coordinate the program, but all chemistry faculty will be expected to recruit new students into the program and to develop and teach appropriate coursework. Continued support of the program is incumbent upon robust recruitment of majors and successful implementation of the program.

Successful candidates must be engaging teachers of chemistry at all levels of the undergraduate curriculum, ranging from general education courses to upper-level courses in Chemistry. Teaching responsibilities include, but are not limited to, non-major Chemistry courses, General Chemistry or Organic Chemistry, and upper-level courses in the field of the candidate's expertise. The successful candidate will demonstrate a record of, or potential for, excellence in teaching and have experiential teaching skills. The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours/semester, and all faculty members actively contribute to program assessment, serve on committees, advise students, and participate in professional development and service to the College. Additional responsibility may include the role of Chemical Hygiene Officer for the Health, Safety, and Risk Management Committee at Brevard College.

Brevard College, founded in 1853, is a residential liberal arts college. Situated in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Brevard College is located 33 miles southwest of Asheville, North Carolina. Brevard College is committed to an experiential liberal arts education that encourages personal growth and inspires artistic, intellectual, and social action. Our faculty purposefully engage with learners in direct experience and focused reflections in order to increase knowledge, develop skills, and clarify values.

The starting date for this position is August 2023. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living environment, Brevard College conducts background investigations on all final candidates being considered for employment.

Applicants should email (1) a letter of application describing the applicant's qualifications relevant to teaching at Brevard College; (2) a statement of teaching philosophy; (3) a curriculum vitae documenting relevant experience, as well as courses the applicant has taught and is prepared to teach; (4) a sample syllabus from a recent course; and (5) names and contact information for three professional references, at least one of whom must be the applicant's current or most recent supervisor. Materials and inquiries should be submitted to:

Chair of the Chemistry Search Committee

Email: chemistryjob@brevard.edu

Brevard College seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce and encourages qualified candidates across all group demographics to apply. Brevard College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Additional information is available at the College website, www.brevard.edu.