		You believe that you are "unmarried" or should be considered "unmarried" for tax filing purposes
		You filed a separate tax return from your spouse
		You paid more than half the cost to keeping up your home for the tax year
		Your spouse did not live in your home during the last 6 months of the tax year. Your spouse is considered to live in your home even if he or she is temporarily absent due to special circumstance
		Your home was the main home of your child, stepchild, or foster child for more than half the year
		You must be able to claim an exemption for the child. However, you meet this test if you cannot claim the exemption only because the non-custodial parent can claim the child
