

Brevard College
Fall 2027
Assistant Professor of English

Brevard College seeks an excellent teacher to fill a tenure-track, nine-month faculty position as an Assistant Professor of English, focusing on First Year Writing, to begin in the fall 2027 semester. Applicants must hold a terminal degree in Rhetoric and Composition, Writing Studies, English, or another relevant field, with the degree in hand by the starting date.

Candidates should demonstrate a record of, or potential for, excellence in all levels of undergraduate teaching, but preference will be given to candidates who employ experiential pedagogies with evidence of excellence at teaching first-year writing. The successful candidate will contribute to a thriving program in English and demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and mentoring students within a diverse liberal arts environment.

The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours per semester. In addition to teaching, faculty members maintain an appropriate level of professional development and scholarly activity and contribute to the life of the college through academic advising, program assessment, committee work, and other institutional and professional service.

Brevard College, founded in 1853, is a residential liberal arts college. Situated in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Brevard College is located 33 miles southwest of Asheville, North Carolina. Brevard College is committed to an experiential liberal arts education that encourages personal growth and inspires artistic, intellectual, and social action. Our faculty purposefully engage with learners in direct experience and focused reflections in order to increase knowledge, develop skills, and clarify values. We consistently rank among the top schools in both Undergraduate Teaching and Most Innovative Schools by US News and World Report.

The starting date for this position is August 2027. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled, but preference will be given to those received before December 1. Brevard College seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce and encourages qualified candidates across all demographic groups to apply.

Applicants should email (1) a letter of application describing the applicant's qualifications relevant to teaching at Brevard College; (2) a statement of teaching philosophy; (3) a curriculum vitae documenting relevant experience, as well as courses the applicant has taught and is prepared to teach; (4) a sample syllabus from a recent writing course; and (5) names and contact information for three professional references, at least one of whom should typically be an applicant's current or recent supervisor.

Submit materials to Chair of the English Search Committee: EnglishSearch@brevard.edu

Brevard College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living environment, Brevard College conducts background investigations on all final candidates being considered for employment. Additional information is available at the College website, www.brevard.edu.